Aquarion employees give generously to AmeriCares for Haiti

Stamford-based AmeriCares recently received a contribution of $6,135 from Aquarion Water Company and its employees, who established a collection to help people in Haiti after an earthquake shattered the island country in January, taking 230,000 lives.

AmeriCares sent out a call for financial assistance after the earthquake so it could deliver medical aid and humanitarian relief to the struggling survivors.

“The donations were completely employee-driven,” said Charles V. Firlotte, Aquarion President and CEO. “It makes me proud to lead a company with people who care so much for others who are in desperate circumstances, but I am not surprised — in 23 years with this company, I’ve seen such examples of employees’ generosity over and over again.”

Aquarion Water Company serves 580,000 people in 39 communities throughout Connecticut. It is among the seven largest investor-owned water utility companies in the U.S., and the largest in New England.
